Supporting Our Veterans

As a 24-year Army veterans and Chair of the House Committee on Veterans' Affairs Subcommittee on Health, I feel it's my duty and honor to support our veterans. Just this month, I introduced the Veteran Care Improvement Act to expand and improve healthcare options for veterans, primarily through partnerships with community care centers. Our service-members devote their lives to protecting our freedoms, and it's our duty to ensure they receive the best possible care.

Constituent Services

My staff is committed to serving the residents of Iowa's First Congressional District. I have offices in Washington, D.C., Davenport, Iowa, and Indianola, Iowa filled with staff prepared to help if you're struggling to get in touch with a federal agency, need assistance in renewing a passport, want to schedule tours while in D.C., or if you would like to order a flag flown over the U.S. Capitol building. If you have any questions, you can learn more at MillerMeeks.House.gov or give us a call at 202-225-6576.

Securing Our Border

There's no question the crisis at our southern border has gotten out of control. President Biden unraveled border policies, such as Remain in Mexico, from the start of his term, leaving us with illegal immigrants, criminals, and illicit drugs flooding into our nation. I was proud to vote in favor of H.R. 2, the Secure the Border Act, to address this ongoing issue. Every state has become a border state because of this crisis, and I will continue fighting for solutions that work.

Restoring Faith in the Federal Government

From day one, House Republicans have delivered on our Commitment to America. On our first business day, the House passed the Family and Small Business Taxpayer Protection Act, which would rescind new funding for the Internal Revenue Service that was designated for enforcement activities and operations support. House Republicans are committed to restoring faith in the federal government, and that begins with making fiscally responsible decisions.

Investing in American Energy

It's past time for the U.S. to rise to the occasion and provide clean, affordable, and reliable energy to the world. In Iowa, we're no stranger to the benefits of doing so. Iowa, a top corn and soybean producer, supports nearly 50,000 jobs in our stat. I was proud to introduce the Fuels Parity Act, which would allow ethanol from corn starch to qualify as an advanced biofuel. I was also proud to support H.R. 1, the Lower Energy Costs Act, which reaffirms our commitment to investing in domestic energy.

Protecting Our Children

The covid-19 pandemic exposed flaws within our education system and proved the need for parents to be included and involved in their children's education. As part of our Commitment to America, House Republicans vowed to bring parents back to the classroom. I am a proud supporter of school choice and while cosponsoring the Parents Bill of Rights, which would ensure parents know what's being taught in classrooms, are able to speak up in school board meetings, know how school budgets are being spent, have the right to protect their child's privacy, and know if there's violent activity at school. Parents know their children best, and it's critical they play a role in education.
